- 2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)
  - 1. Reference is made to the following document:
  - D1: WO 01/85398 A 15 November 2001 (2001-11-15)
  - 2. D1, which is considered to be the prior art closest to the subject matter of claim 1, describes (the references between parentheses apply to said document):

    a device for assembling the casing and the body of a hydraulic rock breaker including a casing, inside which a body (2) containing the hydraulic striking mechanism (6) is housed; such that a bush (3) acting as a guide for a tool (4) is mounted inside said body; translation of the tool (4) in the guide bush (3) is limited by a cotter (13); and the guide bush comprises at least one peripheral area engaging an area of matching shape provided in the forward portion of the casing.
    - 2.1 Consequently, the subject matter of claim 1 differs from this known tool in that:
      - the tool is rotationally retained in the bush by a cotter;
      - the guide bush is rotationally and translationally retained in the body by a cotter, the peripheral

Box No. V	Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability;
	citations and explanations supporting such statement area of said bush has a non-circular shape and engages the area of matching shape so as to restrict the rotation of the bush and therefore of the body relative to the casing.

The subject matter of claim 1 is therefore novel (PCT Article 33(2)).

- 2.2 The problem that the present invention is intended to solve can be considered to be that of:
  - providing a device for assembling the casing and the body of a hydraulic rock breaker in which the rotational locking of the body and the casing can be performed simply and very reliably.
- 2.3 The solution to this problem, as proposed in claim 1 of the present application, is considered to involve an inventive step (PCT Article 33(3)) for the following reasons:
  - a person skilled in the art confronted with the stated problem is not able to obtain a device covered by the terms of claim 1.
- 3. Claims 2 to 6 are dependent on claim 1 and thus also comply, as such, with the PCT requirements of novelty and inventive step.
